ANTELOPE VALLEY COLLEGE

81st Annual Commencement

Friday, June 3, 2011 | 7 p.m.
Brent Carder Marauder Stadium | Antelope Valley College
Lancaster, California

Building a future of promise

Welcome to this evening's celebration as we honor the achievements of our students.

As a campus community, we look forward to projects that will enable us to expand our classroom and lab space to serve the valley's growing population. We are excited about the plans for the future of the Antelope Valley Community College District as we serve the residents of a 1,945-square-mile area.

Likewise, we are excited about the promising futures of each of our students who have completed degree and certificate programs. They have built a solid educational foundation on which to pursue their dreams.

The college district trustees, administration, faculty and staff join the families and friends of the Class of 2011 as we celebrate this milestone.

Together we look forward to a future filled with promise.

The legacy of the cap and gown

The origins of the academic cap and gown can be traced back to the first European colleges and universities during the Middle Ages.

At the time, most of the schools were for theologians, so students and teachers adopted the standard clerical dress of the time:

- The cappa—a plain, ankle-length cassock
- A biretta—a stiff, square cap with a tuft on top

The cappa was a simple gown and least costly, thus it was considered most appropriate for clerical students. Initially, the gown colors indicated ecclesiastical rank or a particular order, with scholars and lesser clergy wearing black.

By the mid-1500s, individual colleges and universities adopted gowns with distinctive shapes and colors. As for the biretta, its shape changed to a "mortar board" in the 1800s as institutions sought to standardize the shape and size of the upper part of the headpiece.

The "mortar board" style itself can be traced to the Middle Ages as the guild of masons would wear hats representing an aspect of their trade—in this case, the boards on which they mixed mortar—to festive ceremonies.

The tuft on the biretta evolved into the modern tassel.

The colorful academic hoods worn by faculty, trustees and administrators at today's ceremony, are merely a modern variation of a tippet—a long, black scarf worn over a robe hundreds of years ago to keep a person warm. The hood, now elongated to hang down the back, reflects the academic background of the wearer.

Tassels and hoods worn by faculty and officials contain colors reflecting the academic background of each person:

Arts, letters, humanities. . . . white
Business drab
Economics. copper
Education light blue
Engineering. orange
Fine arts. brown
Library science. lemon
Music. pink
Nursing apricot
Philosophy dark blue
Physical education sage green
Science golden yellow
Social work. citron

The master's hood is pointed; the doctor's hood is bell shaped. The border of the hood indicates the scholar's department; the lining emblazons his or her school colors. Borders are made of satin for masters and velvet for doctors.

Gowns of masters and doctors also have differences. The master's gown has pointed sleeves slit at the elbows. A doctor's gown has wide lapels of velvet, either black or the color of the scholar's specialization. The sleeves are full and bell-shaped. There are three velvet chevrons, either black or colored like the lapels.
