FPDC Sub-Committee Center for Excellence in Teaching and Learning notes from Oct-04

Questions to research:

- How many colleges in California have CETL/CTX or a similar program (ask Leslie Carr, COC)
- What is the relation between FPDC and CETL/CTX?
- Who runs CETL/CTX (faculty, staff, etc.)
- Who funds it?
- If faculty run it, what is the reassigned time
- What are the features, components of the centers
- Who provides the content for web-site (newsletter, articles, links...)
- Some centers have videos and pictures who makes them? Faculty, students, ...?
- Some centers have course on teaching with certificate option
 - o who teaches those courses? –
 - o who designs a curriculum for those courses?
- How the success of the program is tracked?
- How is it promoted on campus?
- Do the colleges allow faculty from other institutions attend their events? take certificate course?
- How CETL supports the accreditation? ILO's? (campus discussion?)

Kristine.

As you may be aware, AVC is currently offering a certificate/associate's degree program in Business at the California State Prison Los Angeles County in Lancaster. The program is now under my direction.

We are working with the Chancellor's Office and the California Department of Corrections & Rehabilitation to both improve and expand our program in the future. Critical to our success will be to build a pool of instructors from various disciplines who are willing to teach courses in this maximum security prison.

While teaching in a correctional facility can seem intimidating to some, others find it a very rewarding experience. Students are typically very motivated do well in their studies and are very successful. Classes are taught in cohorts, and we have had from two to four cohorts per semester on two yards.

The Academic Senate of the California Community Colleges has developed a Canvas-based 4-hour online training called "Teaching Incarcerated Students." This is an in-depth preparatory course that will discuss the prison environment and pedagogy related to teaching this special student population. We hope to make this course a requirement for all AVC instructors teaching in the prison, but it can also serve as an informational learning opportunity for those who may be open to explore the idea but may not be ready to volunteer for such as assignment.

Below is the link to the course. I spoke with Dr. Suderman today who agreed that this would make a good FLEX offering for instructors and that it would count toward FPD if an instructor takes the course. Can you get word out about this opportunity?

In addition, the associate warden of the facility would be willing to come out to the college and offer an in-person FLEX presentation on the same subject if you think there might be interest. This could be an interactive opportunity for instructors to ask questions they might have.

Please call me or email if you have any questions that I might answer. Thank you in advance for your help.

Hi Cathy--

Thank you for reaching out. I think that the FPD Committee would be interested in the course on educating encarcerated students. I will add the course to the agenda for our next Committee meeting. I will also share with the members that associate warden is willing to come to the college to talk to us.

Teaching at the prison is important work, and I am sure that there are a number of faculty who are curious about the program. Thank you for being this to the attention of the Committee.

Do you know which colleges are currently offering the course to their faculty and who created the course?

Kristine,

This email may answer your question about who at ASCCC developed the online training regarding teaching incarcerated students. Julie Adams and Delores Davidson from ASCCC presented the information on the course at a meeting I attended in Sacramento on Monday.

I don't have the exact number of colleges running programs in the prison right at my fingertips. (I have sent an email to ask the question though.) However, I count about 22 colleges on this email string and there may be a few more. I also know that Cal State LA is running a bachelor's degree in Communications in the Lancaster prison and were represented at the meeting this week. Bakersfield College also has an extensive program in about half a dozen Kern County prisons.

In addition, I met the inmate education director from Cerro Coso College, and she is running about a much larger program than ours in both the Tehachapi and the California City prisons. I hope to meet with her soon to gather some best practices. I will also be meeting soon with the director from Cal State LA to try to have some better coordination between our two programs.

I hope this information helps. Thank you and the committee for the consideration.

All,

It was a pleasure meeting you on Monday. As I mentioned during the meeting, the ASCCC has developed an online course for faculty who are interested in teaching incarcerated students. You can access the free course from this link: http://www.asccc.org/pdc-online-courses. Please share the link to the ASCCC Professional Development College with faculty, staff, and administrators. In addition, please send any feedback to info@asccc.com.

Thank you.

| | Responses |
| 1 | Informative |
| 2 | The general session combined with Tina's talk was a very long amount of sitting with no access to food, drink, break, etc. While I loved the scholar in residence talk, it felt exhausted by the time all of this was over. Is there a way to break all of this information up? Have people move between rooms during this time? |
| 3 | Keep on scheduleRemind presenters that a lot of information on PowerPoints is not engaging or effective. |
| 4 | The information was inspiring and has a lot of new thing to anticipate. |
| 5 | Loved the awards and surprise announcement! |
| 6 | There should be a 10 minute break. I know it is disruptive but necessary. |
| 7 | too long, dry |
| 8 | I would have liked to have students perform from AVC. This year was "dry". I have to be honest-Doug Jensen is not the best presenter- (regarding campus changes). I will say Ed Knudson is FUNNY- I really like the guy! And he's doing so much good for the college. I loved hearing Maria Clinton got the President's Service Award, Uhazy Hall surprise was the highlight. I would like to see Bonnie Suderman more- she is funny and delightful:-) |
| 9 | Easy to follow and not a lot of wasted time. |
| 10 | Some info felt repetitive. Otherwise - good. |
| 11 | Loved the videos |
| 12 | Good variety of topics; enjoyed getting an overview of the Facilities Master Plan |
| | closed captioning was very good. |
| 13 | great that we finally recognized one of our own like Dr. Uhazy. very well deserved |
| 14 | Always enjoy the presidents humor. The upcoming changes to the campus are extraordinary! |
| 15 | Presenters need to learn how to make effective PowerPoint slides. |
| 16 | The budget slides are never clearly presented: we need less text per slide and more coherent narrative. The buses to Palmdale were a debacle. |
| 17 | It was quite entertaining, informative, and educative at the same time. I definitely enjoyed the HotDog/BBQ part of it outdoor. |
| 18 | More interesting than previous years; still can't see or hear well if in the green room. |
| 19 | But, we needed a break!!!!! |
| 20 | The flow of the general session was spot on. It captured my attention. |
| 21 | I am an adjunct didn't attend |
| 22 | I especially liked the Closed Caption presentation. It was also exciting to hear about the planned new buildings. |
| 23 | I miss having AVC students perform as they have the last couple of years. |
| 24 | We needed a bathroom break during the presentation. |
| 25 | Awesome! |
| 26 | I always enjoy learning more about the college, colleagues, new construction, and budgetary concerns. |
| 27 | Awesome! |
| 28 | Good. |
| 29 | Well-run and timed. Informative and entertaining. The highlight was the Cole's presentation on the Captioning. |

| 30 | So happy to hear that our health and sciences building will be named after Dr. Uhazy. Always proud of our AVC family and how our administration recognizes our faculty and staff. |
|----|--|
| 31 | I like it and enjoy it |
| 32 | Good connections between the data of the presentation and faculty's duties |
| 33 | Informative. |
| 34 | Some of the speeches still seem unnecessary. |
| 35 | It was an excellent General Session |
| 36 | The opening session is too long. How about giving us a 15 minute break after 90 minutes? Or cut down the opening to 90 minutes and we could have a session for faculty to workshop before lunch. |

| 1 | | Timely topic and accessible to general audience. |
| 2 | | This was an excellent presentation. I wish there were a video of her speech. |
| 3 | | Before Tina's presentation, a break should have been provided. The general session began at 8:00 and when Tina began her presentation after 10:30, most of us needed to stretch our legs of boxes a bethroom break instead of citting for three and a belf hours. |

| 5 | | really interesting! |
| 6 | | Excellent presentation. |
| 7 | | Sorry - it was BORING and she just pushed her political agenda |
| 8 | | Wish she had more time to discuss her observations contrasting Los Angeles and New Orleans |
| 9 | | new info. thanks |
| 10 | | Made me want to take a class from her. |
| 11 | | Did not attend. |
| 12 | | Always interesting, her perspectives. We did though have her before, last spring, right? Felt rehashed. |
| 13 | | I don't know her well enought to comment, except that I noticed how touched she was and how humble she felt. |
| 14 | | Tina was awesome. |
| 15 | | Did not attend. |
| 16 | | Again it was nice to hear and see the passion she had about her research. Thank you for sharing your experience |
| 17 | | I enjoyed Tina's presentation |
| 18 | | Tina is an awesome person to work with; however, I think that timing of the presentation was not good for the audience. We sat there from 8 to 10:30 listening to various updates. If you want to do this again, please keep the Scholar presentation to 15 minutes or let us out early. Lots of people were talking and text during her presentation. |
| 19 | | Made me think for a week- I loved it! |
| 20 | | My favorite part was Tina McDermott's speech. She gave me a lot of new insights and information. I have never been to New Orleans or Germany and I felt very moved by the different way each of them have dealt with a sad history. |
| 21 | | Made me think for weeks- Loved it! |
| 22 | | Beyond excellent! |
| 23 | | Timely, cogent, engaging, and eye-opening! |
| 24 | | The presentation concluded the scholar;s work and her contribution to improve students' learning. |
| 25 | | I like it and enjoy it |
| 26 | | Really interesting and relevant topic / great information given and important dialogue created! |
| 27 | | I learned a lot from it; it gave me some new ideas. |
| | | too long, off-topic and/or unclear topic that seemed condescending or white savior-ish until the last 10 minutes, which was honest and heartfelt and where most of the time should have been |

| 1 | | I feel I'm more aware of what to do if ICE shows up on campus. |
| 2 | | I have benefited from using Canvas effectively in my classroom |
| 3 | | Specific challenges veterans encounter when coming to a community college campus. |
| 4 | | How to deal with veterans I meet over the course of my work. |
| 5 | | I can encourage veteran students to access the resource center since I know more about what is available. |
| 6 | | Learned websites to go to in order to access OEI and Canvas info and data about increase in online education. |
| 7 | | lots of it! very useful, applicable info from Greg as always. |
| 8 | | Being more sensitive to veteran student issues and challenges. And learned more about the resources available at AVC. |
| 9 | | I love working with other more experienced math faculty and would welcome a co-worker in my classes, especially on the more difficult topics. In my field, application is very useful. |
| 10 | | The entire veteran information, different branches of military, the experiences of our veterans as students, all were VERY eye opening |

| 15 | | I did not attend any workshop session after the general session. |
| 16 | | I have already asked other instructors if they would be interested in guest speaking in my classes. |
| 17 | | I will one day teach an online course and canvas is an online system we use. |
| 18 | | The practical applicable information. |
| 19 | | Excellent presentation explaining team teaching. |
| 20 | | I really enjoyed the presentation by Nisani and Vento; -I want to team teach. I think both them should share their experience with more faculty. |
| 21 | | The specifics about students and diversity was very interesting. |

| 1 | | undocumented students. |
| 2 | | Informative, good interaction among attendees. |
| 3 | | Overall, it was very useful to me. |
| 4 | | Presenter needed to watch her timing more carefully. She asked for 10 minutes at the end of the session when the audience needed to move to the next presentation. |
| 5 | | I learn so much about team teaching that is also inform me about the honor program. I am now in my first semester for team teaching and this workshop has answer all my concern and doubt. We should have more of this to help other faculty to become more creative style of teaching. |
| 6 | | Speaker was fantastic. |

| 1 | I wish there were more info on how ITS could handle or assist faculty on closed captioning. They are as overwhelmed as we are and are not quite ready to provide clear info/instructions. |
| 2 | Informative |
| 3 | It was useful and informative |
| 4 | Some audience members can be really annoying. |
| 5 | Everyone need to be more understanding about the close caption and be more supportive toward other faculty. Overall I love the new program how rick shaw show where he talking on the microphone and it automatically create the close caption on the screen. i cant wait for everyone to use that . |
| 6 | Good thought wish we had more time. |
| 7 | It was nice to have a few technical questions answered, and to learn the IMC will be helping us with this project. |
| 8 | very informative, useful |
| 9 | EXCELLENT - hope they will present again soon! |
| 10 | One of my co-workers is teaching a course for the first time and wanted to refresh her skills and "sit in" my class. We also exchange e-mails outside of class time. Apparently, this mentor-ship cannot be for 2 faculty in the same department. Why? |
| 11 | Great! Very informative, again, love the updated forms for appropriate filtering of students (disciplinary or mental health referrals) |
| 12 | I did not attend any workshop session after the general session |
| 13 | The presenters needed to divide the time more mindfully between them, but the ideas were interesting, and the data was persuasive. Questions remain about how to find quality OER resources in various disciplines. |
| 14 | Too shortthe topic needs a much longer session. |
| 15 | They all were well informed! |
| 16 | We need to know more about this. |
| 17 | Good discussion. All questions were answered. |
| 18 | GOOD &INFORMATIVE |
| 19 | Too much bashing on non union members. That is not the way to convince people to join. Susan has a history of bashing these folks. Props to Scott Lee for steering this away from Susans bashing. |
| 20 | A bit too much focus on students using cell phones, which created a tangent to the discussion at hand, but otherwise helpful information. |
| 21 | Since "Academic Freedom" was part of the title of this presentation; it wasn't really covered as I thought it would be. |
| 22 | Excellently done! |
| 23 | Not much useful information was provided other than a reminder to use captions. A lot of the questions asked of the presenter he did not have answers for. |

| 23 | A comparison with the last 10 opening days in Fall at AVC! |
| 24 | Opening Day should be just a half day and let faculty have the afternoon to work in their offices. The Divison meetings could be right before lunch and let us have our afternoon for class prep. Most of the sessions offer just a preview of what will be covered in a flex event on the topic later in the year. The previews at welcome back day aren't really substantive. Half the day just seems like a complete waste of our time |

| 1 | | It's too long. Maybe individual departments (not divisions) can meet on their own to discuss the upcoming year and other program review matters that can be counted as part of the 8 hour Opening Day. |
| 2 | | Thank you for all your efforts to make the Opening Day a successful event. |
| 3 | | I always feel like one session had five things that I want to see! And another session has nothing. Could we just have one program that repeats so that we can hit two of the sessions we're interested in? Or, go back to three sessions, with repeats in the mix. The topics of both sessions that I attended were drawn out to make use of the full time. They could have been much shorter to cover the same information. |
| 4 | | It is frustrating the the same workshops are not given at each breakout - I would have liked to see Rick Shaw and closed captioning but there was another I wanted to see also. And we need MORE closed captioning training please- how about adding several breakouts for Spring opening day on this since it is such an important topic that was presented at this Fall opening day. |
| 5 | | Honors presentation by John Vento was excellent and empowering. Thank you Mr. Vento! |
| 6 | | Lunch menu lacks imagination or much non-meat appeal. |
| 7 | | Although I understand the space concern, adjunct instructors like myself would like to be included in the main opening day if possible instead of shunted to a separate event. It would help us feel a more integral and appreciated part of the campus community as well as giving us a fuller experience. Not all of the information from the Friday session was shared at the Tuesday evening meeting. |

| 9 | | Also if the session could be podcast and viewed at the same time for all faculty. |
| 10 | | Well done! Professors at another college are quite impressed by the organization and efficiency of our agenda and sessions! |
| 11 | | Would like to have an HR representative discuss health benefits and a payroll representative discuss how to read ones pay stub and process for substituting for another instructor/what is the procedure for taking time off or requesting sick days. |
| 12 | | I AM HAPPY, |

4CSD Presentation Proposal Mar 2018

Forging Brave Spaces in the Faculty Professional Develop Program: Initiating the Conversation

After discussion with other professional development leaders at last year's 2017 4C/SD Conference workshop, "Faculty Professional Development as Shared 'Brave Space': How can we Develop a Social Justice Pedagogy in FPD Events?", it was obvious to the presenters that developing spaces for difficult conversations to take place within the framework of Faculty Professional Development programs must continue. Inspired by last year's conversations at the 4C/SD, the ongoing work of Antelope Valley College's Student Equity and their Umoja program as well as the statewide Umoja community (particularly Dr Yamonte Cooper's presentation on Racial Battle Fatigue Syndrome), AVC hosted its first "Brave Space" professional development event in Fall 2017. In today's presentation, Michelle Hernandez (Director of First Year Experience) and Kristine Oliveira (Chair of Faculty Professional Development) will share the path that they followed that enabled them to broach the subject of the need for brave spaces on campus among the faculty, the way that they introduced the concept to their colleagues in that presentation, the faculty's reaction to the concept of forging brave spaces into their FPD program, and the next steps that the faculty wish to take in order to support challenging conversations with civility and respect.
