IMPORTANT, PLEASE READ:

All seminars are "first come, first served" until class reaches full capacity. Maximum student enrollment will vary according to classroom size, as determined by current fire marshal and college regulations.

Students are expected to conduct themselves in a respectful manner with other students, the instructor and other college personnel. The instructor has the right to dismiss any participant, without any credit given, if he or she feels they are not abiding by the rules and are disrupting the class. Conversations should be confined to class discussion topics. Cell phones and pagers must remain off while you are in the classroom. Phone use should be confined to class breaks, however, emergency situations that may require your attention during class should be brought to the attention of the instructor. Students entering 15 minutes after class begins or leaving class before the end, will not receive credit for attendance.

Upon request three business days before the event, reasonable accommodation will be provided to facilitate the participation of covered individuals with disabilities. Call (661) 722-6360 (voice/relay).
