109 and permanent change has occurred for an entire group of positions within
110 a classification is a Group Reclassification Range Reallocation, which may 111 be submitted to the committees for decision. Justification criteria: the 112 sudden or gradual increase of duties, knowledge, skills, or responsibilities,
113 being performed by all incumbents in all positions within a classification
114 shall be sufficient justification for Group Reclassification Range
115 Reallocation.
116

117 13.4 Request for Reclassification

145

146 13.4.3 An employee who has been denied a reclassification may not reapply for at

- 1) To ensure equity and consistency in the reclassification process, the initial review of reclassification requests shall be delegated to two (2) independent committees, one empaneled by the Federation and one empaneled by the District. The committees shall conduct their own independent review of the reclassification request(s). As part of these reviews, the committees may request additional information from the applicant or applicant's supervisor as needed. Written responses to information requests shall be provided concurrently to both committees. When an interview with the applicant or applicant's supervisor is necessary to obtain additional information, PCT shall coordinate scheduling with representatives from each committee to ensure that no more than one (1) interview is necessary, from which both committees receive the same information from the applicant and/or supervisor.
 - 2) On or before April 1, after completing review of the reclassification requests, the committees shall exchange ratings, recommendations and other relevant information, and shall review the recommendations advanced by their counterparts.
 - 3) If one or both committees recommends against the reclassification or recommends in favor of a different reclassification than requested by the applicant, the committees shall notify the applicant, provide the explanation for the negative recommendation, and provide the applicant with an opportunity to respond in writing with additional information or documentation by April 7. The committees shall then review the written response, and either or both committees may modify their recommendation.
 - 4) When the recommendations of the District and Federation committees are in agreement, the mutual recommendations shall be forwarded to the Superintendent/President on or before May 1, with the intent of producing a written determination to the employee on or before May 15.
 - 5) When the recommendations of the District and Federation committees are not in agreement, two (2) representatives from each committee shall meet remotely or in person to discuss the differences in recommendations and attempt to reconcile the committee recommendations. Any unanimous recommendations arising from this meeting shall be forwarded to the Superintendent/President on or before May 1, with the intent of producing a written determination to the employee on or before May 15.
 - 6) If the Superintendent/President denies a reclassification request or makes a negative determination, or if the recommendations of the committees cannot be reconciled, the reclassification requests shall be forwarded to the Federation and District for negotiations.

206
207

The Classification/Reclassification Review Committee is responsible for the initial recommendations for the classification/reclassification of positions within the bargaining unit to ensure greater equity and consistency. The Committee

208 shall use the Kuhn and Associates Grid, or a similar grid, to score candidates,
209 with the District providing access to these materials for the Committee. The 210 District will also provide input to the committee throughout the process. The 211 committee and the President must support the recommendations. Members of
212 the Classification/Reclassification Committee shall include:

213
214 a) Vice President of Human Resources or designee (ex-officio).

215
216 b) 4 classified representatives (appointees of the Federation/ voting).

217
218 c) 1 representative from the Classified-
219 Confidential/Management/Supervisory unit (ex-officio).

220
221 d) 1 alternate classified representative (non-voting).

222
223 2) The Federation will appoint a classified representative to Chair the 224 Committee. The committee will be co-chaired by 1 classified member
225 and the Vice President of Human Resources or designee, the classified
226 chair will rotate every two years.

227
228 3) The members of this committee will be appointed for staggered three (3)
229 year terms.

230
231 4) The incumbent members of the Classification/Reclassification Committee
232 shall provide training to all newly appointed members of the committee.

233
234 13.6 Process Qualified Employees- Whenever permanent and substantial changes have 235 occurred since a position was last classified, a review of the position is appropriate.
236 While there are many desirable qualities for employees to have that should be 237 recognized, reclassification is based upon the duties assigned to a position, not the
238 qualifications of the incumbent. Put simply, the position is classified, not the person
239 holding such position. Justification criteria: the sudden or gradual increase of duties,
240 knowledge, skills, or responsibilities, being performed by the incumbent in that 241 position is justification for Reclassification. Significant and on-going changes in the
242 nature, variety and complexity of duties, supervision received, or supervision
243 exercised may indicate the need for a Reclassification review.

244
245 13.7 Non-qualifying classification/reclassification criteria

246
247 The most common misconception about Reclassification revolves around the person-
248 position distinction. Examples of person-related factors that are not taken into 249 consideration when classifying a position include:

250
251 13.7.1 Longevity- The fact that an employee has reached the top step in the pay scale
252 is not a factor in Reclassification.

253
254 13.7.2 Future Projects- Reclassification of duties being performed is appropriate, not
255 of those that might be added to a job down the line. As such, Reclassification
256 requests must be delayed until new projects or assignments have officially 257 begun.
258

259 13.7.3 Financial Need- The Reclassification process cannot take personal financial 260 conditions into consideration.

261
262
263 13.7.4 Workload- Employee feeling overwhelmed by their workload is no justification
264 for reclassification.

265
266
267 13.7.5 Retention- The possibility of losing an employee cannot be considered in
268 Reclassification decisions.

269
270 13.7.6 Performance/Dedication- Commitment and enthusiasm should be recognized,
271 however it is not justification for Reclassification.

272
273 13.7.7 Personality- The District and Federation encourage employees to be pleasant,
274 Patient, and helpful, however, these qualities cannot be recognized the 275 Reclassification process.

276
277 13.7.8 Promotion- Over time, employees might grow and gain new skills within their 278 current position and be ready to take a step to a new level of responsibility, but
279 their job does not warrant a Reclassification.

280
281 13.7.9 Education- Achieving a higher level of education and/or training during tenure in
282 a classification does not warrant a Reclassification.

283
284 13.8 Application

285
286 1) ~~The job classification/reclassification application will be available from~~
287 ~~Human Resources and/or the Federation.~~

288
289 2) ~~For the annual reclassification review, the employee will submit the~~
290 ~~application to the Human Resources Offices and their immediate supervisor~~
291 ~~electronically or hard copy by the deadline, please make sure to keep a copy~~
292 ~~for your records.~~

293
294 3) ~~The supervisor will make comments and review with the employee before~~
295 ~~submitting the application to the Office of Human Resources and the union~~
296 ~~president electronically or hard copy by the established deadline. However,~~
297 ~~the employee has the right to submit an application for Reclassification~~
298 ~~whether it is supported by the supervisor or not. A supervisor cannot~~ 299 ~~change or require the employee to change the employee's responses on the~~ 300 ~~application. The employee and management must adhere to strict~~
301 ~~processing timelines for requests as defined during the study. The~~ 302 ~~supervisor will make a copy of the request for the employee.~~

303
304 4) ~~Upon receipt of the application, Human Resources will formally~~
305 ~~acknowledge by returning an acknowledgement email.~~

306
307 13.9 Review of Applications

308
309 ~~Upon receipt of the Classification/Reclassification application, the committee~~
310 ~~shall complete a review of the application and render a decision in writing to the~~
