73 per week, and the months per year, a specific statement of the duties required

76 Section 88001).
77
78 13.2.2 Reclassification- Means the upgrading of a position to a higher Classification
79 as a result of the gradual increase of the duties being performed by the 80 incumbent in that position. (California Education Code, Section 88001).
81

82 13.3 Classification/Reclassification Purpose

83

- 84 1) The District and the Federation believe it is important to maintain a fair equitable 85 Classification system. Because duties and responsibilities change over time, the 86 parties have agreed to the following system to upgrade and recognize changes
87 that take place. When the District creates a new position or proposes to change
88 the content of a vacant job description (as a result of the procedures outlined 89 below or as a result of annual Reclassification updates), the proposed revised job
90 description shall be sent to the Federation prior to being sent to the Board of 91 Trustees, within fifteen (15) calendar days or less by mutual agreement for the 92 Federation to review and approve of the proposal and meet and confer, if the 93 Federation chooses.
94
95 2) Decisions regarding classification/reclassification shall be based on substantial
96 and permanent changes in the level of duties and responsibilities of the position
97 assigned by the District.
98
99 3) The Classification and Reclassification of positions are processes that are 100 implemented to ensure that positions with similar level of duty and responsibility
101 are accorded similar levels of compensation, thus ensuring equity amongst staff.
102 It entails an understanding of the relationship of a specific job to other jobs
103 in the District and to the District's overall goal, as well as to other agreed ~~upon Districts with similar criteria.~~ Any modifications are subject to review and shall be mutually agreed upon by the Federation and the District.

- 4) The evaluation of classifications to determine whether the same substantial and permanent change has occurred for an entire group of positions within a classification is a Group Reclassification Range Reallocation, which may be submitted to the committees for decision. Justification criteria: the sudden or gradual increase of duties, knowledge, skills, or responsibilities, being performed by all incumbents in all positions within a classification shall be sufficient justification for Group Reclassification Range Reallocation.

13.4 Request for Reclassification

13.4.1 A request for Reclassification may be initiated by management or by the employee. The employee must have attained permanent status in their classification~~be a permanent classified employee~~ and must have been performing the new duties, which are the basis for the reclassification request, for at least six (6) months before the request. To make a request for reclassification, management or the employee shall submit a request for reclassification by the fourth week of January 1st to Office of People, Culture & Talent~~Human Resources~~. The Office of People, Culture & Talent~~Human Resources~~ will date-stamp the request and forward the request to the ~~Federation President and the~~ employee's supervisor and/or manager, inviting the supervisor to agree or disagree with the content of the reclassification application by a specified date by the second week of February. The request shall include: A completed classification/reclassification application.

- 1) A copy of the employee's current job description
- 2) Any additional supporting documentation

Completed reclassification materials will be assembled by the Office of People, Culture & Talent, and will be forwarded to the Federation President by March 1.

13.4.2 An employee who has applied for reclassification may not apply for another reclassification for at least 1 year from the date of the last request.

13.4.3 An employee who has been denied a reclassification may not reapply for at least one year unless the employee's work duties have changed substantively increased since the last reclassification request and are inconsistent with the job description for the employee's classification.

13.4.4 The reclassification request form/application will be available from Office of People, Culture & Talent.

13.5 Federation Classification/Reclassification Review Committee~~Bifurcated~~ Reclassification Review Procedures

- 1) To ensure equity and consistency in the reclassification process, the

156 initial review of reclassification requests shall be delegated to two (2)
157 independent committees, one empaneled by the Federation and one
158 empaneled by the District. The committees shall conduct their own
159 independent review of the reclassification request(s). As part of these 160 reviews, the committees may request additional information from the 161 applicant or applicant's supervisor as needed. Written responses to 162 information requests shall be provided concurrently to both
163 committees. When an interview with the applicant or applicant's
164 supervisor is necessary to obtain additional information, PCT shall 165 coordinate scheduling with representatives from each committee to 166 ensure that no more than one (1) interview is necessary, from which 167 both committees receive the same information from the applicant and/or 168 supervisor.

- 169
- 170 2) On or before April 1, after completing review of the reclassification 171 requests, the committees shall exchange ratings, recommendations and 172 other relevant information, and shall review the recommendations
173 advanced by their counterparts.
- 174
- 175 3) If one or both committees recommends against the reclassification or 176 recommends in favor of a different reclassification than requested by 177 the applicant, the committees shall notify the applicant, provide the 178 explanation for the negative recommendation, and provide the applicant
179 with an opportunity to respond in writing with additional information or 180 documentation by April 7. The committees shall then review the written 181 response, and either or both committees may modify their 182 recommendation.
- 183
- 184 4) When the recommendations of the District and Federation committees
185 are in agreement, the mutual recommendations shall be forwarded to 186 the Superintendent/President on or before May 1, with the intent of 187 producing a written determination to the employee on or before May 15.
- 188
- 189 5) When the recommendations of the District and Federation committees
190 are not in agreement, two (2) representatives from each committee shall 191 meet remotely or in person to discuss the differences in 192 recommendations and attempt to reconcile the committee
193 recommendations. Any unanimous recommendations arising from this 194 meeting shall be forwarded to the Superintendent/President on or 195 before May 1, with the intent of producing a written determination to the 196 employee on or before May 15.
- 197
- 198 6) If the Superintendent/President denies a reclassification request or 199 makes a negative determination, or if the recommendations of the 200 committees cannot be reconciled, the reclassification requests shall be 201 forwarded to the Federation and District for negotiations.
- 202

203 The Classification/Reclassification Review Committee is responsible for the 204 initial recommendations for the classification/reclassification of positions within 205 the bargaining unit to ensure greater equity and consistency. The Committee
206 shall use the Kuhn and Associates Grid, or a similar grid, to score candidates, 207 with the District providing access to these materials for the Committee. The District will also provide input to the committee throughout the process. The committee and the President must support the recommendations. Members of the Classification/Reclassification Committee shall include:

a) Vice President of Human Resources or designee (ex-officio).

b) 4 classified representatives (appointees of the Federation/ voting).

3) The members of this committee will be appointed for staggered three (3) year terms.

4) The incumbent members of the Classification/Reclassification Committee shall provide training to all newly appointed members of the committee.

13.6 Process Qualified Employees- Whenever permanent and substantial changes have occurred since a position was last classified, a review of the position is appropriate. While there are many desirable qualities for employees to have that should be recognized, reclassification is based upon the duties assigned to a position, not the qualifications of the incumbent. Put simply, the position is classified, not the person holding such position. Justification criteria: the sudden or gradual increase of duties, knowledge, skills, or responsibilities, being performed by the incumbent in that position is justification for Reclassification. Significant and on-going changes in the nature, variety and complexity of duties, supervision received, or supervision exercised may indicate the need for a Reclassification review.

13.7 Non-qualifying classification/reclassification criteria

The most common misconception about Reclassification revolves around the person-position distinction. Examples of person-related factors that are not taken into consideration when classifying a position include:

13.7.1 Longevity- The fact that an employee has reached the top step in the pay scale is not a factor in Reclassification.

13.7.2 Future Projects- Reclassification of duties being performed is appropriate, not of those that might be added to a job down the line. As such, Reclassification requests must be delayed until new projects or assignments have officially begun.

13.7.3 Financial Need- The Reclassification process cannot take personal financial conditions into consideration.

13.7.4 Workload- Employee feeling overwhelmed by their workload is no justification for reclassification.

13.7.5 Retention- The possibility of losing an employee cannot be considered in Reclassification decisions.

13.7.6 Performance/Dedication- Commitment and enthusiasm should be recognized, however it is not justification for Reclassification.

13.7.7 Personality- The District and Federation encourage employees to be pleasant, Patient, and helpful, however, these qualities cannot be recognized the Reclassification process.

13.7.8 Promotion- Over time, employees might grow and gain new skills within their current position and be ready to take a step to a new level of responsibility, but their job does not warrant a Reclassification.

13.7.9 Education- Achieving a higher level of education and/or training during tenure in a classification does not warrant a Reclassification.

13.8 Application

- 1) ~~The job classification/reclassification application will be available from Human Resources and/or the Federation.~~

- 2) Where a position is reclassified to a higher class, other unit member(s) in the same Classification shallmay will also be reclassified, when all if the other members of the class qualify for Group Reclassification Range Reallocation, e.g., have experienced the sudden or gradual increase of duties, knowledge, skills, or responsibilities, being performed by the incumbent(s) in the position(s) within that Classification.
