Antelope Valley College prohibits discrimination and harassment based on sex, gender, race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry, age, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, cancer-related medical condition, or genetic predisposition. Upon request, we will consider reasonable accommodation to permit individuals with protected disabilities to (1) complete the employment or admission process, (b) perform essential job functions, (c) enjoy benefits and privileges of similarly-situated individuals without disabilities, and (d) participate in instruction, programs, services, activities, or events. Upon request, this agenda will be made available in appropriate alternative formats to persons with disabilities, as required by Section 202 of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990. Any person with a disability who requires a modification or accommodation in order to participate in a meeting should direct such request to Mr. Christos Valiotis, Academic Senate President, at (661) 722-6306 (weekdays between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.) at least 48 hours before the meeting, if possible. Public records related to agenda items for open session are available for public inspection 72 hours prior to each regular meeting at the Antelope Valley College Academic Senate’s Office, Administration Building, 3041 West Avenue K, Lancaster, California 93536.
1. CALL TO ORDER AND ROLL CALL
   Mr. John Toth, 1st Vice President of the Academic Senate, called the April 19, 2011 Academic Senate meeting to order at 3:02 p.m.

2. OPENING COMMENTS FROM THE SENATE PRESIDENT
   - Mr. Toth announced that the Senate President, Mr. Christos Valiotis, could not be in attendance of the meeting due to another commitment off campus. Mr. Valiotis apologized for his inability to attend the Senate meeting and requested a video message be played prior to the commencement of the Senate meeting. Mr. Valiotis expressed his apologies for not being able to attend the meeting in person and extend his gratitude to Ms. Gloria Kastner, the Coordinator for the Academic Senate. Mr. Valiotis announced this would be the last Senate meeting Ms. Kastner would be supporting as she will begin a new position as the Senior Administrative Assistant for the Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs and Student Services as of Monday, April 23, 2012. He extended his congratulatory sentiments on attaining a promotional position. He stated Ms. Kastner has become a vital resource for Senate business/knowledge and will be greatly missed. On behalf of the Academic Senate he wanted the Senate Executive members to present Ms. Kastner with a certificate of appreciation for the dedication and work performed for and on the behalf of the Academic Senate. The Senate Executive members, Mr. Toth, Mr. Jack Halliday, and Mr. Ty Mettler presented a certificate of appreciation to Ms. Kastner.
   - The Senate received notification from CSU Bakersfield of an upcoming survey distribution for the Antelope Valley Center Project (AVCP). All UC/CSU transfer courses will be requested to survey students during the week of May 1 – 4, 2012. Senators were encouraged to communicate the importance of allowing students to participate in this survey.

3. OPEN COMMENTS FROM THE PUBLIC
   - Ms. Márquez offered her congratulations to Ms. Kastner and stated she had the opportunity to work with Ms. Kastner during her tenure as Senate President. She stated that working with Ms. Kastner was a great pleasure. Ms. Kastner assumed the position and took great pride in her work. She always worked diligently to assist faculty whenever requested and gained an immense understanding of the role and responsibility of the Senate. The quality of her work was always exemplary, and it will be difficult to find a replacement. Over the years faculty have relied heavily on Ms. Kastner as a resource for campus information. This speaks to the quality work faculty could expect from Ms. Kastner. Ms. Márquez stated it is a great to see Ms. Kastner promoted although she had personal experience of the difficulties in finding a capable replacement. There were several hires in the Senate Office after the retirement of Ms. Mary Kelsay before Ms. Kastner was hired. It will be a difficult process to find a replacement, but in the meantime Ms. Kelsay will be able to maintain the Senate Office temporarily until a permanent replacement can be found. She wished the Senate well in their endeavors in finding a permanent replacement and extended her gratitude to Ms. Kastner for the quality work performed for the Senate and faculty.

4. APPROVAL OF MINUTES
   - March 15, 2012 (attachment)
     A motion was made and seconded to approve the March 15, 2012 Academic Senate meeting minutes. Ms. MaryAnne Holcomb provided a hard copy of corrected minutes. In addition, Ms. LaDonna Trimble requested the minutes correctly reflect the date to drop a class without a “W” is the day prior to the census due date. Motion carried as corrected.
5. REPORTS (5 minutes max.)

a. Faculty Professional Development (FPD) Committee – Kathryn Mitchell

Ms. Kathryn Mitchell reported this is a busy time for the FPD Committee. The committee will be busy reviewing submitted proposals for the 2012 – 2013 FPD program, as well as approving submitted faculty plans and contracts. Annually the committee uses evaluation/survey results to determine the most critical professional development needs. The call for proposals for the 2012 – 2013 PFD program included specifically requested professional development topics that faculty requested in various evaluations. Event evaluations are available for all programmed activities in an electronic format on the FPD public website and will be compiled at the end of the program year. The committee has reviewed submitted event proposals for the 2012 – 2013 program and will be sending out letters within the next few weeks. In addition, the committee has reviewed all 2012 – 2013 Sabbatical requests and will be set as an action item for next week’s meeting. The committee has also engaged in coordinating the fall 2012 Welcome Back Day. Overall, a large majority of adjunct faculty have submitted their FPD Plans on time. To date, there are only five outstanding adjunct faculty plans. Many faculty have begun submitting final contracts. Senators were reminded all faculty, both adjunct and full-time, FPD contracts are due on May 14, 2012. Ms. Mitchell reported several Student Learning Outcomes (SLO) Committee members attended the March 14, 2012 FPD meeting to speak to the changes being made to the SLO Committee composition and member duties. Due to the increase in responsibilities SLO Committee members will receive more FPD credit for serving as the Division representative. She requested Senators announce to constituent faculty members the importance of submitting their FPD contracts early and to work collaboratively with Ms. Mary Kelsay.

7. DISCUSSION ITEM
   a. University of Phoenix MOU (attachment)
      Mr. Toth reported the Senate packet included the details on the University of Phoenix Memorandum of Understanding (MOU). The MOU was included as a discussion item as requested by Administration. They received this MOU request and deferred the issue to the Senate for discussion. According to statistical data included in the MOU more AVC students transfer to the University of Phoenix than any other university other than CSU Bakersfield. The Counseling faculty present do not believe the statistics to be an accurate reflection of transfer students. More students transfer to CSUs (i.e. Northbridge or Bakersfield). Signing the MOU would facilitate a direct articulation with the University of Phoenix and afford all AVC Staff/Faculty a discounted tuition rate. Mr. Ron Chapman stated he is offended by the offer of the MOU because monetary funds are not generally received for articulation. He requested the Senate invite the University of Phoenix representative, Makea Knight, to provide the Senate with a presentation at a future Senate meeting. Ms. MaryAnne Holcomb stated signing this MOU would be a conflict of interest. Ms. Susan Knapp indicated the whole idea of a MOU is bizarre. She requested the discussion item be deferred until the Articulation Officer, Dr. Lee Grishman, could be consulted and requested to review the MOU language. Dr. Grishman should be solicited to provide input on the ramifications of signing the MOU and determine if it would even be appropriate. Senators were in consensus that this discussion item be deferred until the next Senate meeting to allow Dr. Lee Grishman the opportunity to provide input on this discussion item.

   b. Matriculation Update: Priority Registration – Patricia Márquez
      Ms. Patricia Márquez stated she requested the opportunity to speak to the Senate to disclose discussions occurring regarding Matriculation. The Matriculation Committee has reviewed the Chancellor’s Office Matriculation Handbook which includes goals to determine work and goals needing to be accomplished at AVC. Completion of matriculation components have been proven to directly influence and impact students in determining student success. The Student Success Task Force Recommendations has significant impact on matriculation components. One of the goals established by the Matriculation Committee was to review priority registration. Ms. Márquez distributed and reviewed proposed Title 5 language revisions for consideration based on the Student Success Task Force Recommendations. She highlighted the recommended revisions (see attachment). Recommended revised language is italicized. Ms. Márquez reported the language speaks to instituting a priority registration process which rewards students exhibiting good academic behavior. The Matriculation Committee researched community colleges for alternate examples of priority registration processes. The committee gravitated towards the priority registration process instituted at San Joaquin Delta College, which utilizes a point system. The process promotes good student behavior and provides access to courses needed. Students on academic probation will not get the priority registration they may have previously been awarded but won’t be locked out to where they aren’t able to obtain courses needed. Ms. Márquez distributed a draft of a possible enrollment priority system. She emphasized the form is merely a draft and still being discussed (see attachment). Similar to San Joaquin Delta the enrollment priority draft would incorporate a point system. The process title would be changed from “Priority Registration” to “Enrollment Priorities.” Utilizing the recommendations included in the language established by the Student Success Task Force (SSTF) the draft would establish points for students within groups that are required by law and/or meet specific grant requirements. These students would be given enrollment priority. The draft Enrollment Priorities would be established on point value system with a maximum of 100 points total. In addition, utilizing some of the other SSTF Recommendations, the Enrollment Priorities draft was created. Ms. Debra Feickert stated for a student to only lose five points as a penalization for academic probation or withdrawing from a 2 to 4 courses is not enough of a penalty as the student would still be eligible for priority registration in the next semester. The penalty needs to be more severe in efforts to open up space for other students who legitimately need the course and willing to put forth the effort to pass the course for program purposes. Ms. Márquez responded by stating the District needs to wait to get statistics from the Department of Institutional Effectiveness, Research and Planning (DIRP) and consider Title 5 language revisions which are moving towards penalizing students for withdrawing from courses. Ms. Márquez is working with the staff of DIRP to determine how the draft process would impact future AVC Students. The ultimate goal is to reward and emphasize the importance of progress. The committee is looking at trying to establish a process where Title 5 will possibly move towards implementation. The draft is in the infancy stage and there are many unknowns that need to be determined. These unknowns are dependent on the acceptance of the recommendations of the SSTF, as well as Title 5 language revisions. Ms. Susan Knapp stated there are a significant number of students within the protected programs and inquired if they do not meet program requirements if they are removed from the protected program and placed within the general student population. Ms. Marquez stated it is up to the individual programs to determine if a student meets the established program requirements to maintain eligibility for individual programs. If they do not meet program requirements, they should then be removed from the protected program and placed within the general student population and awarded enrollment priority based on the established process. Ultimately, the Matriculation Committee needs to wait to see how the SSTF Recommendations are carried out to finalize any changes to the enrollment priority process but want to be as prepared as possible.

Re: Outstanding Adjunct Nomination: Angela L. Davis (Sociology)

The undersigned faculty in Sociology and Anthropology would like to nominate Angela L. Davis for this year’s Outstanding Adjunct Faculty Award.

During the current semester Angela is teaching one online course of Introduction to Sociology and two conventional courses in Ethnic Relations. She is an inspirational instructor who has an exceptional rapport with students and is a sincere advocate of the social justice orientation of this discipline. Her student evaluations are overwhelmingly positive and complimentary. Although Angela has many accomplishments to recommender her for this honor, the following are those the undersigned faculty members feel are most deserving of special recognition.

Angela has updated and revised the Course Outline of Record for our course in Ethnic Relations. She participated in the development of the SLO assessments for Introduction to Sociology as well as other sociology courses. She has consistently contributed to the assessment of the SLOs for her courses, and she has been a steadfast supporter of adjunct interests on campus. Finally, Angela has been a frequent attendee of Social and Behavioral Science division meetings and a regular participant in faculty professional development activities and personal enrichment opportunities.

Ms. Davis, a graduate of California State University, Bakersfield, has taught Sociology at Antelope Valley College since 2007. She has shown consistent dedication and enthusiasm for her students and has cooperated substantially with full-time faculty. Ms. Davis performs above expectations in the areas of Student Learning Outcome assessment and updating course outlines of record. Angela has been a galvanizing force for other adjunct sociology instructors, by encouraging them to meet together to discuss common issues and to pass on important information and developments. Her willingness to assume governance responsibilities is deeply appreciated by her colleagues.

SUBJECT: Outstanding Adjunct Faculty Award for 2012

It is with great pride that the Business, Computer Studies, and Economic Development (BCSED) Division nominates Violet Christopher for the 2012 Outstanding Adjunct Faculty Award.

Violet Christopher has an MBA in Marketing/Management from Bernard Baruch College in New York, and was a consultant/investor. Violet became a part of the AVC adjunct faculty team in Fall 2008 – teaching Business, Marketing, and Management classes. She quickly immersed herself in teaching and in providing additional support wherever needed. She is always first to volunteer for projects, and she works tirelessly in every endeavor she undertakes.

In addition to her teaching responsibilities, Mrs. Christopher worked with the Antelope Valley Union High School District (AVUHSD) on their Tech. Prep. Demo. Committee in 2011; and has served on the course articulation team, coordinating efforts between AVC and AVUHSD. She also participated in the Educating for Career Pathways conference held in 2010. Her attendance at various workshops encouraged her to incorporate into her classes some of the strategies suggested at the conferences – including, but not limited to, improved team work, an emphasis on technology, and readying students for success in careers. She attends our division meetings on a regular basis, and contributes valuable suggestions and insight from an adjunct’s perspective. Violet has also served on our BCSED Advisory Committee, meeting with members of the community to gather input regarding skill sets employers seek in AVC graduates.

Her dedication to her students is evident in their opinions of her. They find her to be understanding of their personal challenges while still demanding of excellence with a rare talent for balancing both; she can be empathetic without relaxing her standards, which is a difficult task at best. Violet’s experience in industry serves her students well because she brings to her classrooms her personal experiences making her courses much richer than if she relied on the textbook alone.

In her time away from AVC, Violet continues to take classes to improve instruction in marketing techniques. She was also one of the first adjuncts to offer to assist in the development of the Customer Service Academy (CSA) offered through our Corporate & Community Services department. Employers in the community enlisted the help of AVC’s CSA instructors to address customer service issues in their companies as related to Customer Service, Communications, Team Building, Attitude, Values and Ethics, Time Management, Stress Management, and Conflict Management.

Her dedication extends beyond the classroom and the confines of the academic calendar. She has organized her Management “Tiger Team” on numerous group hikes around the Antelope Valley, arranged reunion gatherings designed to promote local businesses owned by her students, and also assembled a team of student volunteers for the Leona Divide and the Leona Valley Trail Races prompted by the desire to encourage one of her student's efforts in completing these endurance running events.

Violet is a patient and positive role model for her students. She possesses excellent interpersonal skills, and students are very fond of her. She frequently shares her own personal, real-life experience to further illustrate the marketing and management arena. Mrs. Christopher is extremely dependable and follows-through to meet deadlines well in advance of the due dates. She has made herself available to substitute for other instructors, as necessary.

Mrs. Christopher is a valuable asset to the Business, Computer Studies, and Economic Development Division, and she should be considered as a top-contender for the 2012 Outstanding Adjunct Award.

Re: Scholar-In-Residence Nomination

March 26, 2012

It is with great pleasure that I nominate Dr. David Newby for Scholar-In-Residence. I have known David since he arrived at AVC in 1989, and have had the good fortune to work with him not only as a fellow faculty member, but also as a member of the Master Chorale. As a singer I could not ask for a better conductor; as a faculty member I could not ask for a better colleague.

1. Is a full-time member of the certificated staff (Non-Classroom and Classroom).

Dr. David Newby was hired as a full-time faculty member in 1989 and is actively involved in faculty and departmental affairs. Since coming to AVC he has served the college on many different bodies/committees, including the Academic Senate, AP&P, Senate Grant Committee, Reorganization Committee, as well as numerous hiring committees, and full time evaluation committees in several different divisions. He presented the AVC Flex series Opera on Film—four presentations per year for three years—and currently presents five concerts per year in the AVC Faculty Professional Development program. Four of the five concerts feature a 30-minute lecture by Dr. Newby prior to the performance.

Dr. Newby is an extremely versatile instructor. He has taught 26 different classes at AVC: Master Chorale, Master Chorale Sectional, Concert Choir, Choral Music Performance, Children's Choir, Orchestra, Musical Theatre Workshop, Voice Class, Keyboard Skills I-IV, Keyboard Harmony I-IV, Applied Music (Piano, Strings, Percussion), Applied Music Performance, Music Appreciation, Music Theory, Counterpoint, Form and Analysis, Musicianship I-IV.

2. Increases knowledge for a specific discipline.

Dr. Newby’s dissertation on Igor Stravinsky’s opera Oedipus Rex won the Julius Herford Prize from the American Choral Directors Association, and was hailed by America’s leading choral publication Choral Journal as “a major contribution to the literature on Igor Stravinsky.” His research has also taken him to Tunghai University in Taiwan where he presented a lecture on Robert Schumann’s Overture, Scherzo and Finale. This lecture was subsequently published as “Robert Schumann’s Overture, Scherzo and Finale: The Finer Shades of Passion” (Festschrift. Tunghai University, Taiwan. 2011).

Closer to home, he composed "The Dragon Wakes," an orchestra composition for AVC Theatre-Music production of same name.

3. Brings credit to the institution.

Dr. Newby has been a remarkably active representative of Antelope Valley College during the last 23 years. He is heavily involved in the greater Antelope Valley community, and has been awarded the Louis Bozijian Arts Award, (City of Lancaster), recognized for community service by Los Angeles County Supervisor Michael Antonovich, and won grants totaling $60,000 from such organizations as the Parsons Foundation ($30,000 grant), Rotary International, Kiwanis Clubs, Supervisor Michael Antonovich, the Lancaster Performing Arts Center Foundation, AVC Senate, and AVC Foundation.

Dr. Newby and Antelope Valley Master Chorale have represented AVC at Carnegie Hall, in Washington, D.C., at the Los Angeles Music Center, Edwards AFB, AV Board of Trade, AV Realtors, Kiwanis Club, Rotary Club, as well as local churches and synagogues. Under his direction the Antelope Valley
Symphony Orchestra has performed in the Indian Wells' Concert Series at China Lake Naval Base, at the Starlight Concert Series in Palmdale, and appeared with John Tesh, and the Electric Light Orchestra.

4. Is a compassionate and skillful educator who opens visionary insights for students.

Dr. Newby is a dedicated instructor who seeks to provide informative and enriching experiences for his students. Since arriving at AVC Dr. Newby has served as faculty advisor to Marauder Music (ASO student club), and coordinated and supervised class trips to concerts at Los Angeles Philharmonic, Pacific Symphony, and Pasadena Symphony. He has also arranged and supervised visits to four-year institutions such as CSUN, CSULB, UCLA, UCSB, USC, Cal Arts, and University of Redlands. At these institutions AVC Applied Music students had the opportunity to meet with faculty, administrators, counselors, and students, as well as observe music classes and lessons. Each semester Dr. Newby provides at least 40 hours of additional classroom instruction beyond the required instructional hours in rehearsals and performances.

Dr. Newby also introduced professional mentors into the AVSO. Professional orchestral musicians rehearse and perform with AVC students, serving as teachers, advisors, and real world role models for aspiring student musicians. This is a rare and wonderful opportunity for students to interact with the kind of musicians they may someday become. In addition, every year Dr. Newby visits music classes at Antelope Valley high schools, observes rehearsals, conducts student groups, and provides information on AVC classes.

5. Is acknowledged by the educational community as a learned individual.

Dr. Newby has shared his expertise as a guest lecturer and faculty member with institutions such as UC Riverside (Visiting Assistant Professor), Tunghai University (Taiwan), Korean Christian Music Conservatory, Palomar College, Indiana University High School Summer Music Camp, and La Jolla Symphony and Chorus. He has been a guest conductor for the Kern County Honors Orchestra, and Pasadena Festival Orchestra. He is currently music director for the Tehachapi Symphony Orchestra, which won the Symphony League of America Met Life Award for Excellence in Community Engagement. Dr. Newby has also served as an adjudicator for Los Angeles Junior Chamber Music Concerto Competition, and the CSUN Concerto-Aria Competition.

6. Demonstrates persistent dedication to innovation and excellence in education.

Dr. Newby is dedicated to improving music education at AVC and beyond. If a course, program, or performing group was lacking, David found a way to make it a reality. He wrote or co-wrote ten new AVC classes: Master Chorale, Master Chorale Sectional, Choral Music Performance, Children's Choir, Keyboard Harmony I-IV, Applied Music, Applied Music Performance. He co-authored three different versions of the AA in Music Degree in 1990, 1996, and 2007. Dr. Newby also founded an independent board of directors for the Antelope Valley Symphony Orchestra and Master Chorale, helped design bylaws, and recruited several board members.

Dr. Newby’s dedication to music education is not limited to the AVC campus. He founded the AV Children’s Choir, constructed its bylaws, and served as Interim Music Director. He founded one solo and two concerto competitions, a youth concert series, and the High School Choral Festival. All of these groups and activities give young musicians the opportunity to perform in public, and test their skills in open competition. Entering, preparing for, and participating in competitions allow students to stretch themselves, explore new music, and instill a drive for excellence that will last a lifetime. Dr. Newby has actively sought to make such opportunities available to all who wish to enter.

Subject: Nomination of Professor Karen Lubick
Scholar-in-Residence Award

It is our pleasure to offer in nomination Professor Karen Lubick from the Language Arts Division as AVC’s Scholar-in-Residence for the academic year 2012-2013. We share below her accomplishments and attributes:

1. Is a full-time member of the certificated staff (Classroom)

Professor Karen Lubick has been a full-time instructor of English at AVC since 2001 after serving one year as an adjunct instructor and before that, from 1993 to 2000, an adjunct at California State College Northridge. She teaches many classes per semester and some during Intersession and summer session when required. Eleven years of full-time teaching at AVC and the faculty responsibilities she has assumed, both department and shared governance related, validate Professor Lubick’s outstanding performance as a campus leader, consultant, coordinator, advisor, collaborator, and scholar.

2. Increases knowledge for a specific discipline.

Professor Lubick teaches a wide range of English courses, from developmental to the highest in the composition sequence. Early in her career, she embraced the opportunity to teach English 099 in tandem with Math 050 and History 101 in AVC’s fledgling learning community program, as many as four pairings, and served as a consultant to other instructors for increasing their own knowledge of this innovative method of delivering instruction. When Professor Lubick assumed the duties of Honors Coordinator a year after she was hired full-time, she not only taught standard English courses in the learning community format, but also honors classes, the latter of which she continues to teach, always keeping abreast of current pedagogical issues and methods related to honors by attending State and national conventions.

Professor Lubick is a firm believer that teaching is best delivered and learning best experienced when talents, resources, and strategies are combined for the purpose of improving student writing, comprehension, and literary analysis skills. To this end, she increases her knowledge and skills a variety of ways: 1) regular attendance at composition meetings, retreats, and norming sessions; 2) scholarly presentations and attendance at national and State conferences; 3) one to three Flex presentations each year on topics related to literature, basic skills English, and pedagogy; 4) meetings with area English high school faculty; and 5) guest training of tutors for AVC’s Writing Center program. In addition, Professor Lubick collaborates with interdisciplinary programs to explain the role of the English faculty and to inspire youth in programs such as iCAN (College Access Network), and SOAR High School.
3. Brings credit to the institution.

As Honors Coordinator for an unprecedented ten years, Professor Lubick has guided the Honors Program to the point where course offerings are more numerous than ever, from four per term to ten, and the number of students in the Transfer Alliance Program from 100 to 400 each year. She is the main advisor to Alpha Iota, the local Antelope Valley Chapter of Alpha Gamma Sigma, the statewide community college honors organization. AVC membership in Alpha Iota, the third largest chapter in the state, has risen from 15 students to 100, with scholarship awards given to many of them each year at the annual State convention where Professor Lubick was chosen advisor of the year in 2009-2010, the same year she also served as Vice Chair of Scholarships and Awards.

Although Professor Lubick also brought credit to AVC with her prior service as Alpha Gamma Sigma Board President in 2008-2009, it is as Honors Coordinator and advisor to AVC faculty who teach honors courses that Professor Lubick has truly distinguished herself as an advocate for students and a campus leader.

4. Is a compassionate and skillful educator who opens visionary insights for students.

Professor Lubick serves AVC students in various ways. As a member of the Leadership Team, she oversees student clubs, assisting both students and faculty advisors. Each year she plans and hosts the Honors Convocation event in which honors students are recognized for their efforts. She has been a member of the Scholarship Committee and an ad hoc member of the Commencement Committee. When the Writing Center Campus Advisory Committee was formed in 2002 for the purpose of soliciting faculty suggestions regarding the writing needs of students across disciplines, Professor Lubick joined and served more than six years until the transformation of the committee into a larger Learning Center Advisory Committee.

Students laud Professor Lubick's rigorous but stimulating English courses, her patience, helpfulness, caring, and involvement in getting them to be better writers, to achieve more, to push themselves to succeed. In any arena (learning communities, honors classes, basic skills classes, college level English classes), her students consistently find her an effective, dynamic, energetic, and inspiring teacher, mentor, guide, and friend. Professor Lubick always finds the time to read an essay of application to a four-year college, a university scholarship, or an Alpha Gamma Sigma award.

Professor Lubick's vision for learning is that it should be thematic, with emphasis on making connections among ideas and fields, utilizing multiple perspectives. She teaches her students as much from her college experiences as possible, showing them how to deeply analyze any subject matter from a variety of perspectives, all the while modeling scholarly behavior and professionalism.

5. Is acknowledged by the educational community as a learned individual.

Professor Lubick has been a member of nine AVC shared governance committees over the course of her employment, including SPBC for two years. She has also served on six hiring committees and four tenure committees, two of which she served as chair. As a frequent presenter outside AVC on scholarly topics (five times at the Conference of College Composition and Communication and three State conferences), she is known as a reliable authority in her discipline and is often called upon to participate in local and regional English panels. Recently, she was asked to present at an AVC Basic Skills Symposium.

In addition, Professor Lubick’s contributions to AVC’s Faculty Academy include collaborative learning and designing writing assignments. An articulate professional, faculty members realize she has a lot to teach them, and when attending her events, they experience the breadth of her knowledge and teaching skills. As the coordinator of the Honors Program, she regularly visits Honors classrooms to observe instructors, conferring with them and offering advice and strategies.

Professor Lubick actively seeks answers to problems and/or issues related to her discipline. She is currently involved in a pilot program with other English faculty and the dean to help determine the lack of student success in basic skills English courses. Also, a few years ago she procured a basic skills grant to lead the Teachers’ Collaborative, involving AVC English faculty and high school instructors in a discussion regarding how to bridge the programs.

6. Demonstrates persistent dedication to innovation and excellence in education.

Through a combination of group work, guest speakers, films, literary and rhetorical analyses, lectures, and out of class assignments, Professor Karen Lubick keeps her students focused, on task, engaged, and enthusiastic. Making connections, as the basis of her teaching, involves people, communication, ideas, and processes. Her participation in learning communities demonstrates this as does her tireless work with the Honors Program. She is always evolving as an instructor, and, therefore, is the perfect example of a scholar.

Please accept our nomination of Professor Karen Lubick as Scholar-in-Residence.

Thank you for your attention and consideration.

Sincerely,

Professor Diane Flores-Kagan

On the final pages of this document, you will find an appendix that provides examples for your reference.

To display our commitment to this partnership, University of Phoenix is pleased to extend a five percent (5%) tuition reduction to staff and faculty of Antelope Valley College who enter into a bachelor's or higher degree program with University of Phoenix. Additionally, students entering into a bachelor's degree program who obtain an associate's degree from Antelope Valley College will receive a five percent (5%) tuition reduction upon proof of the completed associate's degree. University of Phoenix will also provide a one hundred percent (100%) fee waiver for staff, faculty and associate degreed students on Prior Learning Assessment (PLA) submission. PLA includes the assessment of professional training completed at Antelope Valley College or an affiliated skill or training center that has not been transcribed as transferrable college level credit towards a degree program offered at Antelope Valley College.

Partnership Recommendations
Immediate Partnership Initiatives for Students

Articulation
University of Phoenix will accept Antelope Valley College lower-division general education coursework as the same designation that you grant them; thereby allowing your students to maximize the units they acquire at your institution. Through articulation, you are adding value and credibility to your already established courses. Additionally, articulation allows students the opportunity to save time and money while working toward completion of their degree by utilizing the credits already earned at Antelope Valley College. Following completion of your course evaluation, a Course Transfer Guide (CTG) will be posted on phoenix.edu as well as on your co-branded landing page for new and existing students to reference when enrolling at University of Phoenix to continue their education. Your Course Transfer Guide demonstrates clearly for your advisors and students how their coursework is designated at University of Phoenix allowing for increased flexibility when it comes to credit transfer and application.

Please see Appendix I to see an example of a Course Transfer Guide.

Transfer Pathways
Using the framework of our Course Transfer Guide, University of Phoenix identifies Transfer Pathways that promote community college completion by bringing clarity to the transfer process. Through the creation of Program Transfer Guides (PTG’s), your staff, faculty, and associate degree students see how transfer credits apply on a program-to-program basis as credits earned from an associate’s degree at Antelope Valley College can be applied when transferring into a University of Phoenix bachelor’s degree. This document is customized for each institution holding a current Articulation Agreement and a signed agreement with the University of Phoenix.

Please see Appendix II to see an example of a Program Transfer Guide.

Seamless Transfer Launch
The “transfer launch” is the date by which University of Phoenix is able to enroll associate degreeed students of Antelope Valley College. When we launch, our enrollment systems will be able to track any new and existing student-alumni of your institution, apply partnership benefits, as applicable, and begin to record student information for reporting purposes to determine Transfer Trends and Outcomes. We understand that it’s important to evaluate the success of our relationship and the educational growth of your alumni. As such, we have the ability to provide comprehensive reporting on the enrollment trends of your students on an annual or semester basis. We can provide active student count and enrollment trends as well as a breakdown of student count by modality (online vs. local campus), degree program, University of Phoenix College, and University of Phoenix region. Our intake team of advisors, known as Graduation Teams, are dedicated to offering personalized service that create a heightened student experience that supports the student success foundation established by Antelope Valley College.

Please see Appendix III to see an example of the reporting we can offer.
Student Communications
In an effort to communicate the benefits of our relationship to your students and alumni, University of Phoenix is able to create a portfolio of collateral pieces with minimal effort on your part. By providing your logo in a high-resolution format, we are able to execute customized, co-branded communication pieces including:

- An informational landing page created specifically for community college students with a custom URL for your institution (phoenix.edu/avc)
- Web copy to be placed on your student-facing website that describes the relationship and links to the landing page, and a University of Phoenix logo file for use on the website
- A “Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ)” document that addresses potential questions about your academic relationship with University of Phoenix for use in an electronic or print format

Please see Appendix IV for examples of our co-branded collateral.

Workforce Development Prior Learning Assessment
University of Phoenix is grateful to America’s community colleges for the investment they make in training and educating our Nation’s workforce. To support the student’s attainment of industry-recognized credentials, the University of Phoenix will assess professional training that has not been transcribed as transferrable college level credit towards a degree program offered at your college and/or an affiliated skill or training center through our Prior Learning Assessment (PLA). Coursework which is remedial or developmental in nature is not eligible for assessment, and all students are subject to the University’s prior learning assessment policies.

Future Opportunities for Students

Workforce CLEAR Pathway Event
The Workforce CLEAR Pathway Event is focused on bringing clarity to a community college student’s career and continuing education paths by designating a night to highlight opportunities available in a specific industry. By focusing on five key components, Community, Learning, Engagement, Access, and Readiness (CLEAR), University of Phoenix supports Antelope Valley College in informing students and alumni on industry specific educational goals needed for long term academic and profession success.

Please see Appendix V for more information on Workforce CLEAR Pathway Events.

Future Opportunities for Community College Personnel

Community College Bridge Board (C2B2)
The Community College Bridge Board (C2B2) is a multi-chapter Board spanning the United States comprised of academic and workforce development leaders from University of Phoenix, community college partners, and industry leaders. The mission of Community College Bridge Board is to:
• Forge programmatic alliances with community college academic affairs leaders to ensure community college student completion and seamless transfer.
• Bring together educational and industry stakeholders to promote seamless Transfer Pathways that result in student exit with increased labor market value.

A Community College Bridge Board Open House provides a forum for programmatic collaboration that fuels the economy. By bringing together community college leaders and their University of Phoenix counterparts in Academic Affairs, input as to the most effective Transfer Pathway is secured, and the industry voice is heard. To illustrate, when an Associate in Applied Science (AAS) in Administration of Justice Studies is aligned with University of Phoenix Bachelor of Science in Criminal Justice Administration to form a Transfer Pathway, both academic partners, as well as industry leaders, need to work together to promote the Pathway and testify to its relevance.

School of Advanced Studies
University of Phoenix supports Antelope Valley College staff by offering doctoral programs within the School of Advanced Studies. These programs are designed for organizational leaders who wish to integrate research, theory and practical experience into their professional roles and personal lives. Furthermore, through a strong emphasis on academic excellence, we support our learners' development as scholars who converse with, and contribute to, the larger community of academics and researchers engaged in the study of leadership.

Reporting
We understand that it's important to evaluate the success of our relationship and the educational growth of your staff and faculty. As such, we have the ability to provide comprehensive reporting on the enrollment trends of your staff and faculty enrolled at University of Phoenix. On a quarterly basis, we can provide active student count and month-over-month enrollment trends as well as a breakdown of student count by modality (online vs. local campus), program level, degree program, University of Phoenix College, and University of Phoenix region.

Please see Appendix VI for an example of the reporting we can offer.

Appendix V: Workforce CLEAR Pathway Event

Here’s how our Industry Workforce CLEAR Pathway Event supports your students:

Community
Successful integration of a student into the labor force involves the support of many stakeholders in the student's community. Typically held at a large community college venue, the Workforce CLEAR Pathway event brings community college students and staff together with university transfer partners and external stakeholders in the industry to focus on a student’s “next steps” after community college completion.

Learning
Our Workforce CLEAR Pathway event emphasizes lifelong learning relevant to the student’s field of interest and presents continuing education options for the 21st century student who is so often a working learner.

Engagement
By focusing our event on a specific body of students and their options for successful transitioning into their industry of interest, we secure maximum engagement. To illustrate, at a Healthcare Workforce CLEAR Pathway Event, all healthcare associate degree students are invited to attend. Event contributors will be universities with healthcare transfer options, healthcare employers sharing insight into the job market, diversity chapters with a focus on the market (i.e. the Hispanic Nurses Association,) and other community stakeholders from the local media and political realm.

Access
Community colleges provide educational access to diverse students across the United States and the Workforce CLEAR Pathway event aims to support the Access Agenda by opening up the event to the community to demonstrate the connection between education and career success for all students.

Readiness
Working in tandem with our community college and workforce partners, the Workforce CLEAR Pathway event is able to advance postsecondary career blueprinting efforts that result in students who are career ready.
