Definition
Journalism encompasses the study of forms of the mass media (newspapers, magazines, television, internet, radio and films), and the development of reportorial skills and abilities. The Journalism program not only helps prepare students for transfer and eventual careers in journalism but also increases their awareness and appreciation of the role of the media and mass communication in modern society. They become more informed citizens, better equipped to weigh objectively and critically the wealth of information emanating from the mass media.

Individuals interested in the mass media can learn basic newswriting, reporting, and photojournalism skills through the journalism program. The program includes an introduction to mass communication.

Program Description
Students learn about journalism and mass media through study and practice. An introductory course, COMM 105, focuses on an analysis of the mass media and the role of the journalist. In JOUR 121, students gain initial experience in preparing news stories. JOUR 123 is conducted like a newspaper laboratory. Students research and write stories, prioritize features, crop photographs, prepare copy for printing, and do layouts.

Distinctive Features
Students enrolled in the Journalism program are directly involved in publishing the college paper, The Examiner. Thus they gain valuable practical experience while, at the same time, affect public opinion on and off campus.
