

What Can I Do with This Major?

Film and Television

The Film and Television program offers courses in film/video production as well as classes in film history and theory. Students will learn all aspects of visual storytelling, from writing and production to directing, sound design, cinematography, and editing. They will also explore the beginnings of this medium and its influence on popular culture. The film program allows students to gain specific skills and knowledge in order to pursue careers in the Film & Television industry while also giving students the opportunity to transfer to a four-year institution with an AS-T degree in Film, Television, and Electronic Media.

AVC Certificates & Degrees

- Film, Television, and Electronic Media Associate Degree for Transfer

Examples of Work Industries & Employers

Television Industry
Film Industry
Public Relations Firms
Advertising Agencies

Sports Media
Large Corporations
Government Agencies

Self-Employed/Freelance
Colleges and Universities
Journalism

Possible Job Titles may require a bachelor's degree or higher

Production Assistant
Video Artist
Videographer
Screenwriter
Assistant Director
Audio Operator
Boom Operator
Director

Film Librarian
Floor Manager
Grip
Lighting Director
Line Producer
Media Consultant
Film/Video Editor

Movie Reviewer
Producer
Production Coordinator
Script Supervisor
Stage Manager
Studio Camera Operator
Cinematographer