

What Can I Do with This Major?

Theatre Arts

Theatre is a dynamic and collaborative performance art. The Theatre Arts Program offers hands-on, production-oriented courses that provide students and community members with numerous opportunities to participate in public performances. Departmental productions are an integral part of the curriculum, serving as practical applications of the theories and techniques explored in class. The program offers a comprehensive range of courses, equipping students with a well-rounded foundation in all aspects of theatre. Whether students plan to transfer to a four-year institution, fulfill general education requirements, or expand their artistic perspective, the program fosters creativity, technical skills, and a deeper appreciation for the art of theatre.
