

Tutorial Analysis

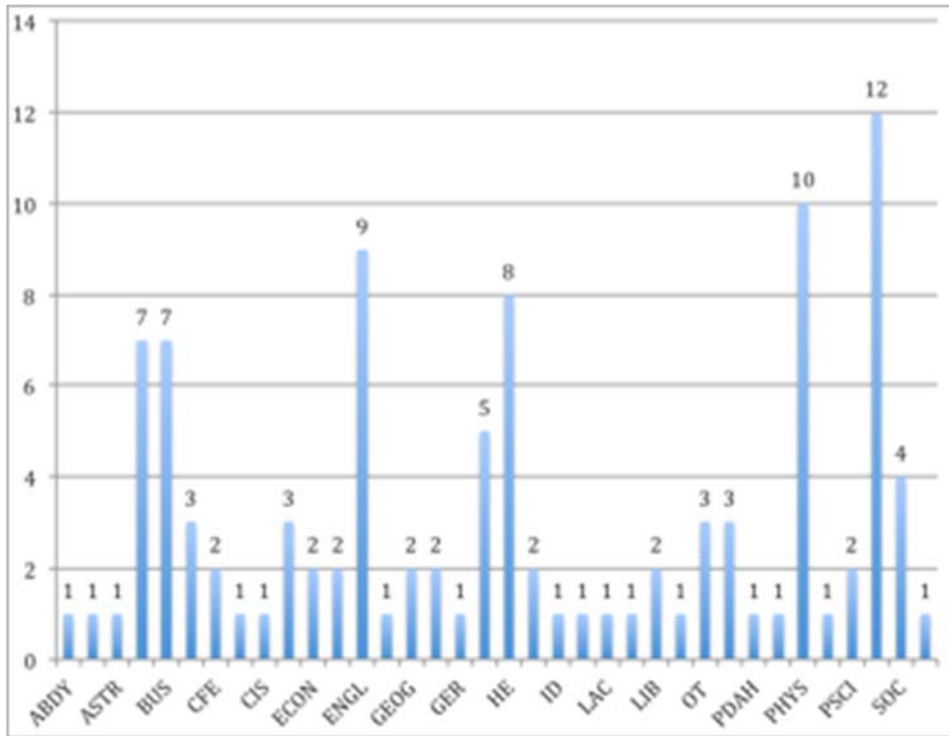

An analysis was conducted examining the pattern of courses and disciplines using the AVC Library's tutorials. This analysis looked at data from 2010 through 2014.

For each tutorial, there are two charts. The first chart presents the number of total tutorials taken by students in each discipline. This shows which disciplines have the most students taking the tutorial. The second chart presents the number of different courses within a discipline using tutorials. This shows how many instructors in each discipline are using them.
